TOWN TOPICS

LOPEZ'S RETIREMENT—Francisco Lopez, convicted of stealing hogs in the neighborhood of Tempe, will go to his reward this morning. He will be taken by Deputy Sheriff De Winter to the penitentiary to enter upon a sentence which may extend over a period of six years.

WHOSE GRAY MULE—Since May 9, a valuable gray mule, about nine years old, has been eating his head off at the Pioneer Stables. On that date he was picked up by the police while the animal was following a wagon loaded with hay into town. Unless the owner appears shortly, the mule will be sold at public auction to cover his board bill.

FORD CAR THIEVES—Saturday night was a busy season for Ford car thieves. A car almost new belonging to Mrs. Edward Nafziger, who lives near Glendale, was stolen from the street near the office of Wells Fargo & Co. About the same time a car belonging to R. B. Freeman, who lives on Route 1, was taken. Both thefts were reported to the sheriff's office and a search of the town and vicinity was conducted all night. The license number of the Nafziger car is 13441; that of the Freeman car is 1494.

LONGS FOR HOME—Stranded in Phoenix a worthy woman is trying to secure a small sum of money to help her return home. She is the wife of a man who is in the U. S. army and is in the U. S. army.

MISS ETHEL WISE TO CENTRAL BANK

Miss Ethel Wise, who had been connected with the state corporation commission since its organization after statehood as head of the incorporation department, and for five years before that had been in charge of that department of the office of the secretary of the territory, under John H. Page, Sims Ely and W. C. Foster, will take a position with the Central Savings Bank and Trust company on June 1.

The record made by Miss Wise as a business woman in the fifteen years of her residence in the city was such that when The Republican a few days ago announced her retirement from the corporation commission, before 1 o'clock that morning she received a telephone message from an official of the bank offering her this position.

Soon after coming to Phoenix Miss Wise took a place with the Arizona Abstract company. She was afterward associated with various other concerns, among them the Union Bank and Trust company, the Standard Incorporating company and other houses.

take her to her former home. She paid $250 for the lot, and still has unpaid upon it $10. She is trying to borrow upon her equity $35 which will take her home at the special rate friends have secured for her, but has been told that the lot has fallen in value so that her equity has not that much borrowing power. She so says she feels certain that relatives in her old home will furnish her the money to repay the loan when she gets there. Those philanthropically inclined who might wish to aid in this case can secure the address of this woman by communicating with the news editor of The Arizona Republican.

AFTER JEROME MAN—Requisition papers issued by Governor William D. Stephens of California asking for the return to that state of George A. Veal who had been arrested at Jerome charged with wife abandonment and non-support, were honored Saturday by Governor Campbell. Veal had been working at Jerome and it is said, not only had lately informed the California officers of his whereabouts but had sent him his own money last month's wages, leaving him penniless. He has a wife and five children in San Diego, from which city W. A. Waymouth, representing the San Diego police department, arrived to return Veal to that city. A stay of execution of one day has been asked by Veal's attorneys, Heim and Borden of Jerome.

IN SUPREME COURT—The case of E. A. McKenzie, appellant, vs. C. W. Moore, appellee, was filed in office of the clerk of the supreme court Saturday. The case comes from Cochise county, where the San Simon mining claim, erected a monument, sunk a shaft and completed the necessary legal details. Moore removed the monument and filed on the shaft, claiming a former water right and that the land is not mineral. McKenzie sued for an injunction and damages, but was denied both in superior court. He appeals to the higher court. In the case of School District No. 2 vs. Lucile Hill, from Graham county, the supreme court yesterday dismissed the appeal and awarded Lucile Hill $25 as damages for a frivolous appeal. The case of John A. Owens, appellant, vs. State of Arizona, appellee, the application of the appellant for a certificate of probable cause is denied as is also his application for bail.

WELL-KNOWN COUPLE SLIP TO FLORENCE AND WED QUIETLY

A romance of long standing culminated Saturday in the wedding at Florence of Richard R. Porter, a native son of Phoenix, and Miss Louise Hultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Hultz, for the past four years a resident of this city. That the young people were engaged was generally understood among their friends of acquaintance here, but that an early marriage was contemplated was not suspected except by their closest friends. So, when Miss Hultz quietly resigned her position in the office of the Arizona Fire Insurance company on Friday evening, and Mr. Porter secured a temporary leave of absence from his position in the composing room of The Arizona Republican, none saw in it a determination to wed.

Accompanied by Misses Lorena Herring and Lucille McKee and Messrs. Harold Chubb and James D. Wilson, the young couple journeyed to Florence Saturday afternoon. A marriage license was soon secured and the party proceeded to the Presbyterian parsonage where Rev. Mr. Henderson, pastor of the church, read the service that made them husband and wife.

A quick run was made on the return to Phoenix and the party proceeded immediately to the home of the bride's mother on North Nineteenth avenue, where a wedding supper was in waiting. After June 1 Mr. and Mrs. Porter will be at home at 1316 West Adams street.

Coming here from Iowa four years ago the bride attended Phoenix Union High school for a time and afterwards engaged as stenographer and clerk for the Arizona Fire Insurance company. The groom completed his apprenticeship as a printer some months ago. Both are well and favorably known in this city.

HOME PRINTING CAMPAIGN HAS SHOWN RESULTS

Results already are evident in the campaign now on by the Phoenix printers to educate the people against the evils of securing part of town to do their printing done. The slogan, "Phoenix Printing for Phoenix People," is being readily grasped by the merchants, according to a member of the campaign committee.

"The profits accruing to the community," declared this committee member, "is of little, if any, more importance to the printers than it is to those engaged in any other line of trade. When the business man is shown the difference between 100 per cent of the cost of his printing leaving the community, never to return, on the one hand, and 75 per cent of the cost remaining here, on the other, he sees at once that there is no argument in favor of patronizing foreign concerns for any cause whatever."

In face of the fact that 50 per cent of the Phoenix printing has been going to outside printing houses we do not attribute that fact to a desire to injure the progress and prosperity of our city, but do not stand to reason that anyone who is financially interested here, or who has any commodity to sell would let malice check his own financial advancement. Yet the results remain the same in this instance.

"With $250,000.00 cash placed in the hands of a few hundred people in this city, annually, it would be a poor merchant, mechanic or professional man that could not see how some of it might find its way to his till."

"If a stranger should visit our city and let it be known that he contemplated establishing a $200,000.00 manufacturing plant that would employ 100 people there would be a stir in business circles. There would be meetings of the business men's organizations and, more than likely, a bonus would be offered to insure the enterprise for Phoenix. And rightly enough. Yet money, contemplated by the stranger, as good as money in hand."

"With the money invested within a period of less than two years and that in contemplation within the next few months, the Phoenix printers will have spent $122,400.14 for new equipment. This, to say nothing of the previous investment and anyone familiar with the Phoenix of two years ago knows there were several quite pretentious printing establishments here at that time, should command attention."

"The Phoenix printers ask no bonus. They ask to be given the opportunity of giving the Phoenix business world several hundred more customers. The Phoenix printing family today reaches well up toward the 1000 mark and they are producing only one-half of the printing used by Phoenix organizations and, as I inferred before, is so obvious to the business mind that it cannot be ignored."

"We believe that every business and professional man in this community is in favor of a 'Bigger and Better Phoenix.' Here is an opportunity to con-

MOBILIZATION OF FARM NEEDS RALLY PROGRAM

Plans for the school house rally to be held at the school houses of 24 districts of Maricopa county next Wednesday night are being rapidly completed. Letters have been mailed so far as possible to every farmer in the county. The blank forms which will be filled out showing the labor needs of each district are now being sent to be printed, and other data of importance have been prepared, and will be ready for distribution today (Monday).

All delegate speakers and the community leaders as named in Sunday's Republican are expected to meet Tuesday morning at the Chamber of Commerce at 9 o'clock for a final conference and to receive a supply of blank forms.

A committee consisting of Chas. McArthur, Dr. J. C. Norton and Dr. O. C. Bartlett, have drafted an outline of the talk which each speaker delegate will make at these meetings. This outline will be supplied at the meeting Tuesday morning.

Community leaders have been asked by County Agent W. A. Barr to do all that is possible to stir up enthusiasm in their respective districts so as to make the attendance at each of these meetings a record breaker for that community. In most districts where meetings will be held committees will be appointed to arrange for the meeting as well as to increase the attendance.

Every farmer should attend the meeting most convenient to him, and if not possible to attend should put down in writing and send to the meeting the number of farm laborers he will need during the season; the number he is working now; the acreage in crops growing and the acreage of summer crops to be planted; the amount of extra cash needed; and the capital which he must have to raise a maximum crop.

No meeting will be held at Phoenix Wednesday night, but the office of the farm bureau at the Chamber of Commerce will be open all day Wednesday and any farmer who will not be able to attend a meeting Wednesday night may register his requirements during the day at this place.

Community leaders and everyone interested should impress upon all the absolute necessity of having all this data tabulated if help is to be extended to the farmers that they may increase their crops.

Community leaders with machines are requested to offer their services in going into the various districts Wednesday and visiting as many farmers as possible, urging them to attend the meeting. They are asked to assist in this way should report to the meeting of community leaders and speaker delegates Tuesday morning.

"One prominent business man very tersely summed up the situation after having the facts laid before him. The gentleman remarked: 'Yes! There is absolutely no argument. I can see how the printers could buy more potatoes if we gave them all of our printing,' and he sells potatoes, regardless of the caricatures in the metropolitan press and the fact that the hitherto plain fruit is now displayed along with diamonds in Spiffany's."

Liberty Loan with an acquaintance on the street the other day. The acquaintance was somewhat chilly on the subject of the war and said he did not intend to take any of the bonds.

"We might as well chip in what we can," said the first man. "The government needs the money and, if it comes to a pinch, it may come along and take it anyway."

"Huh!" retorted the second man, "I'd like to see any government take any of my property."

"Mister Man," declared his friend, "you don't seem to realize that this nation is at war, and that the government that is in charge of its affairs can and will take whatever it needs to carry its share of the war. It can take your property and mine, and that of every other man, part of it or all of it."

"It can, and will if necessary, regulate the food we eat and the clothing we wear. And its authority does not stop with property. It can take you and me, in our own persons, and ship us off to the other side of the world digging trenches and stopping bullets. There is no limit to the authority of the government in such a case."

"You, and a lot of others who seem to look at things in about the same way, may as well get it out of your heads now as later that this is a go-ahead you-please war in which every man may take a hand or not, just as the notion strikes him. When this nation is at war you and I are at war, and all the rest of us. And it's up to us to hunker down to business just as it up to the fellow in the trenches to do the same thing."

"The man in the trenches who shirks his duty now as later that this is a go-ahead you-please war in which every man may take a hand or not, just as the notion strikes him. When this nation is at war you and I are at war, and all the rest of us. And it's up to us to hunker down to business just as it up to the fellow in the trenches to do the same thing."

Phoenix will take "time off" Wednesday to pay its tribute to living and departed heroes. Even in this day, when new heroes are in the making, citizens have not forgotten those men who fought that a nation, inseparable, might live.

And so, with war clouds casting its shadows of gloom over this nation, heroes of the past will be honored by heroes of the future. Ceremonies that befit the occasion have been planned with the local Spanish War Veterans in charge.

According to plans announced last night, the main events of the day will be held at the city hall plaza at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Preceding this patriotic program will be a parade in which every fraternal organization in the city is invited to participate. The parade will form at the Elks club at 9:30, proceeding to the city hall plaza. Included in the line of march will be G. A. R. and Confederate veterans.

Principal speakers of the day will be Governor Thomas E. Campbell, who will give a few introductory remarks; George Barrows, speaking on behalf of the G. A. R., and Attorney General Wiley E. Jones, who will represent the U. S. W. V. The Indian band will furnish a musical program.

The Woman's Relief Corps and women of the S. W. V. will also conduct memorial services and will decorate the graves of departed heroes during the morning hours. It is hoped that every business house in Phoenix will close Wednesday, at least during the hours of the services.

MEMORIAL DAY TO BE OBSERVED BY ALL PHOENIX

Phoenix will take "time off" Wednesday to pay its tribute to living and departed heroes. Even in this day, when new heroes are in the making, citizens have not forgotten those men who fought that a nation, inseparable, might live.
